

ALABAMA'S LARGEST 4G[™] NETWORK

Verizon Wireless has spent over $340 million on its network in the state since 2010.

$340M

More than four million Alabamians have access to our blazing fast network, which reaches well beyond the state's major cities into rural Alabama.

Over the last two years, we've launched 4G LTE in every market in the state.

Verizon has contributed more than $900,000 to non-profit organizations in Alabama since 2010. The majority of those dollars have gone to support tornado relief, emergency preparedness and domestic violence awareness and prevention.

Verizon Wireless was the first wireless provider to introduce Alabama to 4G LTE technology in May of 2011.

Verizon Wireless employs more than 1,200 people in Alabama.

Reliability matters: Verizon Wireless network technicians traveled more than 23,000 miles across the state in 2012 to measure the quality of voice and data calls on our network, as well as other carriers' networks.
